

“We do not inherit the earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children.”

NATIVE AMERICAN PROVERB

CANDLE 79'S DIVERSE SELECTION OF FINE ORGANIC, SUSTAINABLE OR biodynamic wines, hand-crafted eco-cocktails, revitalizing tonics, and beer showcases some of the finest products committed to environmentally respectful production methods married with classic artisanal tradition. Utilizing organic, biodynamic or sustainable ingredients protects the earth and ultimately our guests from the damaging effects of conventional farming and production practices.

Sustainable agriculture attempts to minimize environmental impact and ensure economic viability and a safe, healthy workplace through the use of environmentally and economically sound production practices.

Organic vineyards are sustainably maintained, but are strictly managed without the use of systemic fungicides, insecticides, herbicides, and synthetic fertilizers.

Biodynamic viticulture was first advocated by Rudolf Steiner in the 1920's and gave rise to the organic wine movement. It utilizes a holistic approach to farming and views the vineyard as an interrelated unit by placing emphasis on the balance between vines, soil, and animals in a closed self-nourishing system.

In addition, our wines and beers are carefully selected to ensure only non-animal based production methods were employed in the creation of each beverage.

A votre santé!
